

ADR Forum Online May 2012 - CPD

Advances in technology have made Online Dispute Resolution (ODR) a more viable solution for the parties and ADR practitioners alike. Technology has reached a level of general acceptance and will gain widespread recognition as an aide to make dispute resolution faster, cheaper and more widely available. Widespread adoption of parts of the ADR progression online will continue to increase in addition to complete online dispute resolution processes. As testament to this, Australia's first online Family Dispute Resolution program is about to be launched.

This ADR Forum will for the first time be conducted entirely online, enabling ADR members from all over the country to participate.

The panel will present their unique thoughts and insights into their involvement in various online ADR projects both Nationally and abroad; discuss their experiences as trainers, adjudicators and educators online; discuss that ADR in the online world has arrived and involvement in Australia's premier ODR service for family relationships.

SPEAKER PANEL

Mark Thomson - Director - Virtual Services Relationships Australia

Linda Kochanski - Assistant Professor; Co Director Dispute Resolution Centre, Bond University

Callum Campbell - CEO, Australian Mediation Association

DATE:	Wednesday May 9th - 6.00 - 7.00pm
WHERE:	Australian Mediation Association elearning platform - online
HOW YOU PARTICIPATE:	You will be able to hear and see what other participants say and to make your own contributions to the online forum and group discussions.
WHAT YOU NEED:	A PC or Mac with a good internet connection, video camera (optional), a microphone and speakers. (The use of a headset is optional but recommended.)
COST:	$22 (incl. GST)

Register by email to info@ama.asn.au for an invoice to be sent for payment: Credit cards and EFT available.

Upon payment a Link to our elearning platform and log-in instructions will be sent.

Video recordings will be available to participants who miss their session. A link will be sent after the session to view a recording should you not be able to participate.

Earn CPD Points - 1 point per hour of attendance

Australian Mediation Association

3 Fagan Rd, Herston, Brisbane Qld 4006

T: 1300 MEDIATE (633 428) F: 07 3257 0054

E: info@ama.asn.au W: www.ama.asn.au